current events

Pope John Paul II arrives in Newark today for his fourth visit to the United States.

Peace

The People's Organization For Progress (POP) will provide an update on the Million Man March during a 6 p.m. meeting tomorrow at the Newark Public Library.

The meeting will include a presentation titled "Christopher Columbus and the African Holocaust," by Ras Baraka, a Newark school teacher and son of activist/poet Amiri Baraka.

POP Chairman Lawrence Hamm said the talk will be a critical examination of the legend of Columbus's exploration of the Americas, with him cast as the forerunner of European colonialism that resulted in the virtual extermination of Indians and the enslavement of millions of Africans.

According to organizers, Khadir Muhammad, minister at Mosque No. 25 of the Nation of Islam, will give an update on the march on Washington, D.C., scheduled for Oct. 16. It is billed as a day of atonement for men, and an opportunity for them to recommit to bettering their families and communities.

Million man update set tomorrow

"I think we did the right thing - matter of fact, I know we did."

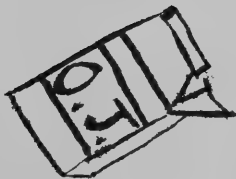

- Juror Brenda Moran

"Last June 13, '94, was the worst nightmare of my life.

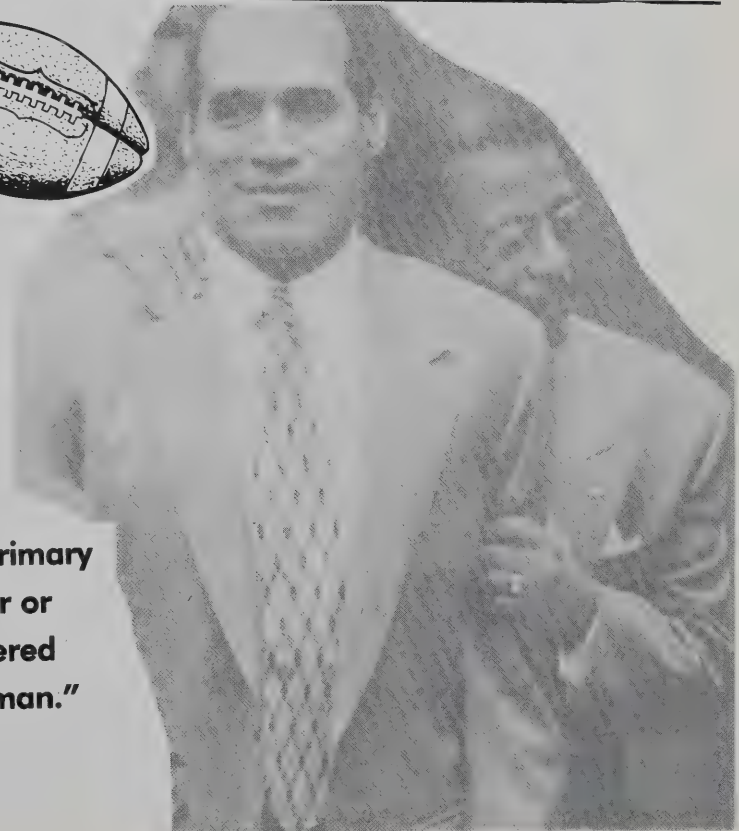

This is the second."

- Fred Goldman, father of victim Ron Goldman

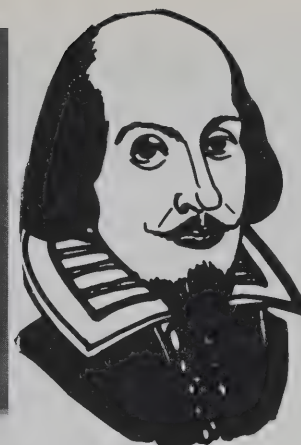

I will pursue as my primary goal in life the killer or killers who slaughtered Nicole and Mr. Goldman."

- O.J. Simpson

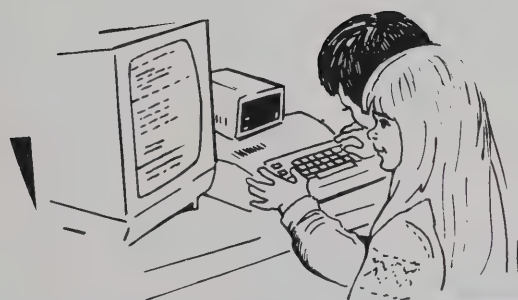

Vailsburg does it all.
